What is the Advantage?

Advantage is the online legal authority that optimizes corporate law research by indexing information by topic and making it available anywhere there is Internet access. Our team of research editors creates proprietary Topic-Index pages that contain “one-click” navigation to relevant source materials. They then link together and organize topics into specific subject matter collections.

Editors also format and cross-reference content in the Advantage Library of statutes, rules and official interpretations.

Our Topic-Index page approach enables Advisors to harness the “seamless web” of legal precedent and practice.

A sample Topic-Index page: The left pane displays an Index of keywords. The main window displays information relating to the Topic. Links lead to the precise information across the entire Collection and Library.

How is Advantage superior?

Advantage requires no training or manuals. Users quickly obtain what they need by browsing a Collection by topic or keyword index. This displays a rich Topic-Index page containing information related to the particular subject matter.

Users browse through multiple levels of information by expanding and collapsing different hierarchies of linked information. Each link leads to related topic pages or to the precise content in the LawyerLinks Library, eliminating the need to search throughout an entire document. Having topics organized by legal editors and linked is superior, smarter research.
